

IGOV: Oak Park's Intergovernmental Body

During the election campaign of 2011, candidates received suggestions from citizens for enhancing the existing communication and collaboration among the six local taxing jurisdictions.

In response, and with unanimous support, local elected officials created IGOV. Beginning in 2012, each taxing body selected two of its members to serve two-year terms and attend monthly IGOV meetings.

In March 2014, IGOV representatives decided to plan and host a series of public assemblies bringing elected officials together to focus on issues related to intergovernmental collaboration, finance, environment, and quality of life in Oak Park.

IGOV Mission Statement

Identifying areas of interest and concern, IGOV facilitates community engagement to foster dialogue in order to create and sustain responsive governance. Through knowledge sharing and a culture of collaboration, IGOV seeks to inform our community's understanding of the stewardship and expenditure of tax dollars.
